Strategic Plan 2025

Empowering Youth for a Just, Peaceful, and Sustainable Future

Summary

PeaceWorks Stockholm's Strategic Plan for 2025 builds upon the foundation set in 2024, with a renewed focus on deepening youth participation in areas such as anti-racism, global justice, and peacebuilding. Our goal is to cultivate a sustainable, inclusive, and youth-led ecosystem where individuals aged 16–30 can organize, develop leadership, and meaningfully impact their communities—both locally and globally.

In 2025, we aim to:

- Scale up youth-led projects and collaborative models
- Deepen our partnership with PeaceWorks Sweden
- Apply insights from DRIV-based learning environments
- Strengthen our digital presence and direct engagement with youth audiences

I. Introduction

Vision

A just, peaceful, and sustainable world where young people are active citizens and community-builders—across national, cultural, and socioeconomic boundaries.

Mission

To enable young people in Sweden, aged 16–30, to lead and participate in initiatives that promote social justice, peace, and solidarity through education, participation, creativity, and activism.

II. Strategic Goals

A. Strengthen youth leadership by supporting initiatives that are grounded in the lived realities and priorities of young people.

B. Expand our digital engagement strategy by using Instagram, and Facebook, to reach, activate, and mobilize a broader youth base.

C. Deepen collaboration with PeaceWorks Sweden through joint projects, shared learning spaces, and participation in national efforts like the Antirasistisk Verkstad and DRIV trainings.

D. Build structural continuity through recurring board meetings, leadership development, and active dialogue with members, volunteers, and partner organizations.

E. Broaden outreach to marginalized youth by building local partnerships with schools, libraries, cultural centers, and youth hubs.

III. Youth-Led Projects

In 2025, PeaceWorks Stockholm will prioritize support for youth-initiated projects in the following areas:

- Social justice and inclusion: Initiatives challenging discrimination, racism, and exclusion.
- Environmental justice and sustainability: Locally rooted youth-led solutions to environmental issues.
- Digital advocacy: Campaigns addressing key societal issues through a youth lens.
- Education and capacity-building

IV. Digital Engagement

A. Implement a structured content calendar across Instagram and Facebook, with engaging, educational, and visually compelling media.

B. Co-create content with young people to ensure authenticity, representation, and relevance.

V. Board Governance & Youth Engagement Activities

A. Host a minimum of five formal board meetings in 2025, with additional meetings as needed for project planning and reflection.

B. Organize social and cultural events

C. Facilitate learning environments

D. Foster networking opportunities that enable youth to connect, co-create, and collaborate on shared goals.

VI. Conclusion

2025 will be a year of continuing to work closely with PeaceWorks Sweden, embedding youth voices in our structures, and creating accessible channels for participation, we aim to strengthen our role as a platform for long-term, youth-driven change.
